"We visited here as a family in October. I can honestly say I've never had a more relaxing break. The hotel is absolutely spotless and all the staff are very helpful. We loved spending lazy days at the pool, at the beach or exploring the town. The hotel put on a free shuttle bus to the resort centre

Why go to Lisbon?

Until quite recently, Cais do Sodré has had a bad rep for sailors stepping straight off their ships and into its many dens of iniquity, to mingle with the shadier characters of Lisbon's underworld. But this once-salubrious part of town has had a revamp and, while there's still a whiff of mischief about, Rua Nova do Carvalho or the 'Pink Street', for its rose-coloured tarmac, now draws a very different kind of visitor

Turn your city break into a microadventure

The mission is simply to go to sleep, but to sleep wild at the western tip of Europe on the cliffs of Sintra Cascais above the crashing waves of the Atlantic Ocean. The 417 bus from Lisbon takes just 45 minutes to Cascais. Then the bus to Sintra (403) will drop you off on the way. According to your preference, there's lush woodland to sleep in, or smoothy grassy heathland looking out over the sun setting into the Atlantic.

Whether it's climbing up one of the seven hills that make up the heart of the city, with the most spectacular city views in Europe, or venturing out to some of the beautiful beaches that line this coastal capital – we can help make Lisbon your perfect city break destination. BARCELONA

Why go to Barcelona?

Less than an hour outside the city, via a train from Espanya station, is the Montserrat monastery. Perched fantastically high on a spectacular, rocky mountain, you can get up there either on foot or by cable car. The monastery is impressive and the hiking trails around the mountain massif are numerous. Once the sun sets you'll be left to enjoy the mountain views only with the deer who live up there. Settle down and watch the city lights come on below.

Level of Difficulty: Medium (if you're going to bivvy, Easy if you're just going for a day hike).

What to pack: Warm clothes (check the weather forecast!), woolly hat, headtorch, raingear, sleeping bag, mat and bivvy bag.

Best time to go: late spring or early summer - the mountains are high and chillier at night than you might anticipate.

If you're looking for a city that's got it all you couldn't do much better than choose the Catalan capital Barcelona, Spain's second city, and one that's bursting with life at every turn. Whether you're looking for a party town, laid back beach resort, or a cultural oasis in which to lose yourself this city has activities to keep everyone happy.

Not many European cities steeped in culture can also boast beautiful beaches literally right on their doorsteps, but Barcelona is no average city. Explore out-of-this-world buildings courtesy of famous local architect Gaudi, head down to Las Ramblas to find crazy street performers and market stalls selling everything from fruit and flowers, to birds, bunnies and snakes in cages or join the bikini set at Barceloneta Beach, a 15-minute stroll out of town and finish your day enjoying nightlife to rival Paris or London. This city has it all.

Whether you're travelling for culture, beaches or a romantic getaway, easyJet holidays can provide everything you need for an unforgettable holiday to Barcelona. Experience one of the jewels of Europe by selecting from a variety of great holiday packages with easyJet holidays. Choose from all-inclusive beach resorts or self-catering city-centre apartments with easyJet holidays' variety of accommodation options. The perfect holiday package is waiting for you, and easyJet holidays will have you soaking up the Spanish sun in no time. The Mediterranean is calling, so get booking - no matter the time of year.

VERONA

Why go to Verona?

Rivalling both Rome and Venice in the romance and history stakes, it won't be long before you're falling in love with Italy's most elegant city, Verona. As romantic destinations go, Verona is hard to beat. After all, this was the setting for Romeo and Juliet, the most famous love story ever told. So, if it's good enough for Shakespeare, you can be assured that it'll be good enough for you.

And while romance oozes from every corner of this elegant Italian city, Verona is more than just a Valentine's Day destination. With 2,000 years of history packed into Romanesque buildings, Gothic churches and even its very own Roman amphitheatre, Verona is a culture buff's dream. They don't call it piccolo Roma (little Rome) for nothing.

Today, the home of Shakespeare's star-crossed lovers is a UNESCO World Heritage Site that has changed little since the times of the Bard. Get into the spirit with a visit to Juliet's house complete with that famous balcony – it is the real one, honest! Or come during the summer months and catch one of the many operas staged in that famous amphitheatre. An experience not to be missed!

Your easyJet experience doesn't need to end when you step out on to the Verona tarmac. easyJet holidays offers great value package holidays to Verona, so you can explore the home of Romeo and Juliet, but also experience much more than just the romantic side of this UNESCO world heritage city. From a must-do visit to the site of Juliet's house, including balcony, to the grand Roman amphitheatre where operas are still performed today. An easyJet holiday to Verona is the perfect getaway destination. We can offer you the perfect package holiday to explore what the Italians adoringly call Little Rome.
